7/15/67. It has just occurred to me thatwhether or not so calculated, the delay in the arr of the judge's daughter who met Townley and me for dinner, in addition to just happening t coincide with the appearance of Walter Sheridan at just that time in just that particular restaurant, also provided a considerable period during which my attache case, in Townley's car, could have bean examined. Had we not been delayed by the delayed appearance of this young woman, to whom, he said, Townley made several phone calls, we would not have been se by Sheridan
